

4 Apps to Connect with Friends Online

You might be feeling bored out of your wits with the routine of online classes and hanging out at home, the new normal that was introduced by the pandemic.

Technology to the rescue! You may already be familiar with your constant social media platforms like Facebook Messenger, Viber and the like, but there are several apps that make your interactions more fun.

Teleparty

This app helps you synchronize your video playback and adds group chats to Netflix, Disney, Hulu and HBO streaming platforms. You can discuss the shows as you watch, a lot like watching TV together.

Zoom

Zoom is not just a helpful meeting tool. It can be utilized for your online hangout sessions as well. You can play games, binge watch shows together and even share a meal together through the meeting and chat tools.

Online game apps

You would be surprised how many of your favorite games you can play with your friends by downloading free apps. Meet up for a game of Mario Kart, Scrabble GO, Kahoot, UNO, and a host of other games.

Houseparty

Houseparty rose to popularity during a pandemic because it is basically an online house party which can host up to eight persons in a room. Your house can have multiple rooms where you can socialize from room to room. You can even play fun party games like Heads Up within the app.
